

From Evil Men, O Lord, Protect Me

PSALM 140 - Lausanne Psalter

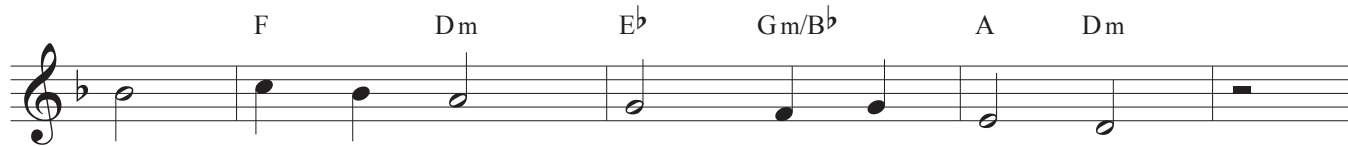

Hypo-Mixolydian

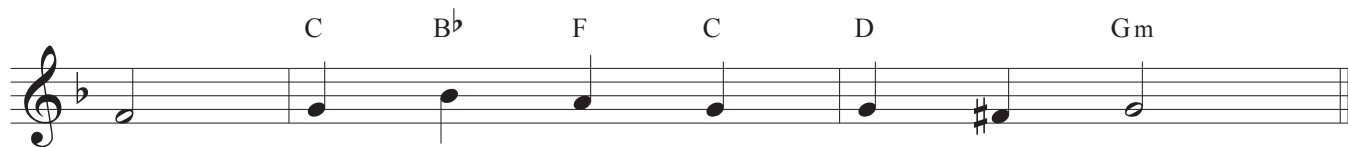

1.From e - vil men, O Lord, pro - tect me;
 2.Their tongues are sharp - er than a ser - pent's;
 3.Keep me from those who rage a - gainst me,
 4.Lord, save me, hear my cry for mer - cy.
 5.Let not my foes' de - sires be grant - ed;
 6.May burn - ing coals fall down up - on them;
 7.I know, Lord, you up - hold the need - y;

from all their fu - ry, save my life.
 their words with dead - ly ven - om sting.
 those who for me have spread a net.
 "You are let my their God," so I have said.
 let them be thrown in - to the fire. suc - ceed.
 you jus - tice for the poor pro - claim.

Their hearts and minds are full of mal - ice;
 O Lord, pro - tect me seek from the wick - ed,
 They in their pride seek my de - struc - tion
 O Lord, you are my strong de - fend - er
 Let their own sin be their un - do - ing;
 Lord, put an end to all their slan - der
 Sure - ly the right - eous with thanks - giv - ing

they dai - ly stir up war and strife.
 for they like my vi - path - ers in bring.
 and in in the bat - tle their snares - in set.
 and in pay them for - tle their shield my head.
 and fling them in - to their pride and greed.
 will in your pres - ence praise your of mire.
 name.

Tune: Guillaume Franc - Lausanne, 1565; Arr. Tim Nijenhuis, © 2020

Lyrics: 2009, William Helder - © 2009, Standing Committee of the Book of Praise

Meter: 9.8.D